Mailer's Postmark Permit No. 001

Aviation Pictorial CDS MPP

First Day of Use: January 25, 2010

Originally designed in 2008, this topical design commemorating aviation sat forgotten about until this year.

Being a lifelong aviation buff, the design lent itself well to a variety of mail pieces that we produce on occasion and, it was long overdue to become a reality.

This fun postmark was first used on January 25th, 2010, to mark this year's first observance of International Local Post Day which coincided with World Local Post Day.

Double-Wing (Heavy) Killer Bars ~ Self-Inking First Day of Use: March 02, 2010

Growing in popularity with various USPS offices throughout the country as a normal hand cancel postmark. We decided to take the same design and modify it slightly for use as a Mailer's Postmark, to fit a new, heavy-duty self-inking die-plate dating mechanism that became available in 2009.

First making one for our own use, this MPP design has become quite popular with many other MPP mailers who find cancelling their own mail loads of fun!

Happy Rainbow-like Arched Killer Bars First Day of Use: March 15, 2010

Created primarily at the request of one of our customers, the hybridized killer bars with MPP nomenclature was just too good looking to not be used regularly in the world's mail-streams.

Customers who also use this design tell us that they like it because they can cancel up to four postage stamps at once. We like to use it because it makes our mail look happy.

Collect Postmarks Pictorial MPP First Day of Use: September 21, 2010

Another one of our pictorial designs that had been sitting on a 'back-burner' since mid-2008 just couldn't be overlooked any longer. And it can't get much better than this for spreading the word about all the fun that can be had collecting postmarks. Whether those postmarks happen to be Mailer's Postmarks or otherwise!

This postmark, our 64th design to be put into regular use around The Olathe Poste, had a befitting First Day of Use introduction, too. On it's first day to see action, it was used to mail out all 160 election ballot packets to members of the Mailer's Postmark Permit Club, along with other mail sent out from Olathe, that day.
